Why choose Fallshaw's stainless steel castors?

Australian made

Manufactured in Sunshine, Victoria, Fallshaw has been a leader in castor manufacturing for over 100 years.

Corrosion resistance

Manufactured from high-quality grade 304 grade stainless steel (with some components from high-quality grades 301 and 303), our castors resist corrosion and rust, making them suitable for regular washdowns, harsh chemicals or moist environments. They can perform under extreme weather conditions including rain or humidity and in applications where they are exposed to water and harsh chemicals during cleaning.

Hygienic

Ideal for use in sanitary environments such as hospitals and commercial kitchens where castors are regularly cleaned, therefore reducing the risk of food contamination, germ-transfer and hospital acquired infection.

Low maintenance

Minimal maintenance required, with resistance to staining and corrosion, while ensuring a long-lasting appearance.

Chemical resilience

Resistant to various chemicals and corrosive/extreme conditions, making them suited for industries where exposure to chemical substances and moisture is common.

Long-term cost savings

While stainless steel castors may have a higher initial cost, their durability and corrosion resistance lead to significant long-term savings by minimising replacements and maintenance.

Built to last

Quality tested and backed up with a three year warranty, our castors are robust and durable, and capable of withstanding heavy loads and harsh conditions.

Smooth ride

Experience a smooth ride with effortless steering and manoeuvrability, allowing you to focus on your task at hand.
